INTRODUCTION

For several years, the Ministère de l'Éducation has been publishing a statistical report on the results on the June uniform ministry examinations and on graduation rates. This information reflects the Ministère's desire to facilitate access to information that is in the public domain.

The report, which is also available on the Internet, is divided into three sections: organization of the examination session; results on the uniform examinations by school board, public school and private school; and graduation rates by school board and by administrative region. The document combines the results for both the public and private school systems in one document. To make it easier to locate information, educational institutions are listed in alphabetical order for each administrative region.

The results are presented for the examinations as a whole by language of instruction and by ranking of educational institution for each uniform examination. The section covering graduation rates contains only one indicator presented in table form: graduation rates by cohort, observation period and sex. Additional information on the results on uniform examinations and graduation rates are available on the Ministère's Web site (see Appendix 1).

This information document is intended for educational institutions and the general public with a view to enabling:

- public and private educational institutions to have access to information for evaluating their educational practices, comparing their effectiveness over time, identifying their strengths and weaknesses, and comparing their performance with that of other educational institutions;

- the general public to have access to official Ministère information;

while taking into account the context and different characteristics of each educational institution when interpreting these results.

In order for the objectives of this publication to be met, it is important that educational institutions and the general public keep in mind certain factors that may affect students' academic achievement when comparing their students' marks with the provincial results. Such factors include:

- Family situation: The support and availability of parents, their financial situation and the family's standard of living in general are among the factors that may affect a student's academic achievement. Studies carried out in Québec and elsewhere have shown that the academic achievement of students from socio-economically disadvantaged areas is generally lower.

- The location of the educational institution: Learning in some subjects, such as the second language, may be affected by the institution's location. For example, the conditions for learning English as a second language are not the same throughout Québec.

- The choice of courses offered by an institution: In educational institutions with relatively few students in the second cycle of secondary school, the choice of courses offered may be somewhat limited and the classes more or less homogeneous. The institution's overall performance may thus be affected.

- Mother tongue: In the past several years, some educational institutions have experienced an increase in the number of students whose mother tongue is not the language of instruction, which may have an impact on the institution's overall results.

- The integration of students with special needs into regular classes: It is clear that in educational institutions that routinely integrate students with special needs into regular classes, the increased range of disparities among the students sitting for ministry examinations may affect the overall success rates for those institutions.

- The grouping of students with major learning difficulties or psychosocial integration difficulties: Such students enrolled in special classes in an educational institution may have a significant impact on the overall performance of the school.

- Different practices related to admission: Some educational institutions take in all students, while others base admission on past academic achievement or performance on aptitude tests.

PART I

1. ORGANIZATION OF THE EXAMINATION SESSION

1.1 Coordination

One of the responsibilities of the Direction de la sanction des études involves defining and applying rules regarding the certification of studies in general education. Consequently, one of its activities includes coordinating the administration of uniform examinations, the correction of the examinations and the publication of the results.

1.2 Certification Requirements

The application of the certification rules in section 69 of the Basic school regulation for secondary school education is suspended and replaced by the rules under certification system 3, which means that to obtain a Secondary School Diploma (SSD):

- students must have accumulated 54 credits, 20 of which must be at the Secondary V level or in vocational education;
- only Secondary IV and V credits count toward the SSD;
- the pass mark is 60 percent;
- a pass mark must be obtained in the following subjects:
  - Secondary V language of instruction (6 credits)
  - Secondary IV or Secondary V second language (French sector) (4 credits)
  - Secondary V second language (English sector) (4 credits)
  - Secondary IV History of Québec and Canada (4 credits)

1.3 Preparation of Uniform Examinations

In Québec, the responsibility for preparing examinations for the certification of studies is shared by the Ministère and the educational institutions. Each year, the Ministère selects a certain number of subjects for which it will prepare uniform examinations. Evaluation in the other subjects is the responsibility of educational institutions.

The uniform examinations are summative examinations used for evaluation purposes in subjects that are compulsory for the certification of studies or the recognition of prerequisites for certain college programs.

The following are some of the characteristics of the uniform examinations that are used to certify secondary school studies:

- The examinations are prepared by teachers and education consultants in the English and French sectors of the education system. Every year, many people partake in a process to develop uniform examinations and the Ministère coordinates the entire operation.

- These examinations are not field-tested prior to being administered to students in Québec schools; however, this does not preclude the field-testing of certain items that appear more problematic. A new examination is developed for each subject and each examination session. The Ministère strives to develop examinations that are comparable from one session to another.

1.4 Administration of Examinations

Every year, the Ministère publishes an official timetable for the examination sessions. Educational institutions must fully respect this timetable: school boards and private schools may not hold a uniform examination at any other date than the one indicated in the official timetable. Educational institutions are responsible for administering the examinations and must provide the required premises and supervisory personnel. The Ministère provides the examination materials.

1.5 Correction of Examinations

Uniform examinations may contain both multiple-choice items and constructed-response items. The multiple-choice items are corrected by the Ministère and the constructed-response items, by the educational institutions. The French, language of instruction, examination (with the exception of the French writing examination) and the English Language Arts examination are corrected in full by the educational institutions in accordance with the Ministère's instructions.

1.6 Processing of Results

For the reasons specified below, the Ministère may use two procedures called conversion and moderation, which can affect examination results and school marks. However, under no circumstances does the Ministère normalize results in the statistical sense of the word. If it were to do so, it would have to change the raw scores for each of the examinations so that the distribution of the scores would follow a normal bell curve.

Conversion

To ensure that the examinations are fair, the Ministère endeavours to prepare examinations of comparable difficulty from one year to the next.

Despite the customary precautions taken during the development of the examinations, abnormally high failure rates may occur. In this case, the Ministère may either take corrective measures–for example, by removing a poorly worded question–or convert the results. Conversion is a procedure that involves raising all the scores of an examination slightly, thereby lowering the failure rate. In this respect, the first paragraph of section 470 of the Education Act stipulates that, "The Minister may, to avoid penalizing students unduly, revise the results obtained by them in the examinations he imposes, to compensate for any error or ambiguity in the examinations brought to his attention after they are taken."

This measure is applied in exceptional cases only. In June 1999, the results for the following examinations were converted: History of Québec and Canada (085-414 and 585-414) and Physical Science 416 (056-470 and 556-470).

Moderation

In subjects with a uniform examination, the final mark consists of the student's result on the uniform examination and the school mark. School marks may vary considerably from school to school and from class to class.

These differences may be explained by a number of factors. The degree of difficulty of the local examinations varies from one educational institution to another. Some classes are heterogeneous, while others are more homogeneous and include only the strongest, average or weakest students. Finally, some institutions normalize their marks.

Thus, two classes in different schools or regions may have identical results on the local examinations, but it is impossible to determine objectively if the students' level of performance is in fact the same. Uniform examinations are administered to all students enrolled in a given course; therefore the results on such examinations are a good indication of the performance of different classes. It is thus possible to use the marks obtained on uniform examinations to "moderate" the school marks, that is, to minimize or eliminate the impact of the local variables mentioned previously.

When the Ministère uses moderation, it compares, for each class (usually about 30 students), the school marks and the uniform examination marks. Using a statistical procedure, the school marks for each class are changed so that they are consistent with the marks obtained on the uniform examination by this class, according to the mean and the standard deviation (that is, the dispersion of marks around the mean).

Moderation involves adjusting each students' school mark upward or downward. It cannot, however, result in the failure of any student who has obtained a pass mark both from the school (before moderation) and on the uniform examination.

Final Mark

For the uniform examinations, the final marks are made up of the students' moderated school marks and their results (converted or not) on the uniform examinations.

1.7 Publication of Results

The Ministère is responsible for publishing the results. After an examination session, it publishes official documents for students and the data lists for educational institutions. This information is distributed as soon as possible after each examination session.

Educational institutions may thus evaluate their performance immediately and modify their educational practices as needed in order to ensure the academic success of their students.

Finally, the Ministère publishes an annual report intended for educational institutions and the general public.

PART II

2. EXAMINATION RESULTS

This section presents tables showing the overall results on the June 1999 uniform examinations in terms of the success rates and average marks on these examinations, by school board, public school and private school, for each administrative region. The tables also specify the number of students, the number of examinations taken, the ranking of each institution and the variance from the overall success rate for the public and private school systems. Educational institutions are listed in alphabetical order for each administrative region in order to facilitate the location of information.

2.1 Overview

In June 1999, seven uniform examinations in the French sector and seven uniform examinations in the English sector were administered to Secondary IV and V students:

Examinations in French Sector		Examinations in English Sector

Table 1 presents a few points of general information on the June 1999 examination session for public schools, private schools and institutions falling under the responsibility of or financed by a provincial ministry other than the Ministère de l'Éducation or under the jurisdiction of the federal government. The equivalent data for June 1995, 1996, 1997 and 1998 are also included.

2.2 Results by Educational Institution and Administrative Region

The results presented in this section should make it possible for educational institutions and the general public to assess the performance of schools with respect to academic success. As indicated previously, certain factors affect students' academic achievement; therefore, this information should be used with discernment as it has its limitations and there will always be factors that are beyond the control of schools.

Overall results for English school boards have been grouped under the region of the school board's head office; however, data for each school can be found under the region in which each school is located.

The following tables include the overall results for public schools, private schools and institutions under the responsibility of a provincial ministry other than the Ministère de l'Éducation or under the jurisdiction of the federal government. The Cree School Board and the Kativik School Board are, however, not included and the results for institutions under the responsibility of a provincial ministry other than the Ministère de l'Éducation or under the jurisdiction of the federal government are not published.

The results for the June 1999 uniform examinations are presented as follows:

PART III

3. GRADUATION RATES BY SCHOOL BOARD AND ADMINISTRATIVE REGION

This section sheds light on the situation of school boards and administrative regions with respect to students graduating from the youth sector or before the age of 20 from the adult sector.

Table 9 presents the graduation rates by cohort, observation period and sex, as follows:

- cohort of 1991-92: observation periods of 5 and 6 years; observation period of 7 years, by sex
- cohort of 1992-93: observation periods of 5 and 6 years; observation period of 7 years, by sex
- cohort of 1993-94: observation periods of 5 and 6 years
- cohort of 1994-95: observation period of 5 years

The graduation rates for school boards are calculated by means of a longitudinal method based on the observation of various cohorts of students.[1] These rates are determined for observation periods of 5, 6 and 7 years. This means that students in the 1991-92 cohort obtained a diploma in 1995-96, 1996-97 or 1997-98. Moreover, the probability of obtaining a secondary school diploma, as stated in the Education Indicators, measures the total graduation for a single year.

Thus, the graduation rate after 7 years for the cohort of 1992-93 corresponds to the percentage of students newly enrolled in Secondary I[2] in 1992-93, in a given school board, who earned a first diploma within a 7-year period.[3]

The first diploma may have been obtained at the same school board, at another school board or at a private school, either in the youth sector or in the adult sector (before the age of 20).

1. This method cannot be used for educational institutions. The limited number of enrolments in question (newly enrolled students in Secondary I) and the geographical mobility of students would yield results of little statistical significance.

2. Only students without a diploma enrolled for the first time in Secondary I are included. Students repeating a year are excluded to ensure that they are counted as belonging to one cohort only.

3. Because some students obtain more than one diploma, only the first diploma is taken into account. The following diplomas are considered for the purposes of this indicator: the Secondary School Diploma—SSD (general and vocational), the Diploma of Vocational Studies—DVS (formerly known as the Secondary School Vocational Diploma—SSVD) and the Secondary School Vocational Certificate—SSVC.

For example, the following data were used in calculating Québec's overall graduation rate after 7 years for the new enrolments of 1992-93:

- 93 901 students without a diploma were newly enrolled in Secondary I in the youth sector in 1992-93;

- 68 247 first diplomas were granted to these students from 1992-93 to 1998-99 inclusively.

According to the above figures, Québec's overall graduation rate for the new enrolments of 1992-93 after 7 years is 72.7 percent. Table 9 shows that this result is slightly lower than that observed for the previous cohort. A total of 73.7 percent of the students newly enrolled in Secondary I in 1991-92 obtained a diploma after 7 years.

Table 9 demonstrates that more girls continue to graduate from secondary school than boys. In the 1991-92 cohort, 80.8 percent of girls and 66.9 percent of boys obtained a diploma. For students in the 1992-93 cohort, the rates were 80.1 percent and 65.7 percent respectively.

Finally, Table 9 shows that the graduation rates after a usual period of 5 years increased slightly. Thus, 60.9 percent of the 1994-95 cohort earned a diploma after a 5-year observation period (therefore, up to 1998-99). For the cohort of 1993-94, this rate was 60.1 percent (graduating up to 1997-98), or an increase of close to one percentage point.

(1) The graduation rates by administrative region correspond to the weighted sum of the graduation rates of school boards falling under a given region. Only the graduation rates for the public school system are considered.

(2) The graduation rates by school board are calculated using the place of residence of the student corresponding to the territory of the new school board. The student's place of residence is taken to mean where the student was living when he or she first enrolled in Secondary I.

(3) The results for all of Québec include those for the public and private school systems.

(4) The territory of these school boards extends into more than one administrative region. The graduation rates for these school boards are included in the administrative region under which the school boards fall.
